B.A. International Studies Roadmap

International Studies is an interdisciplinary degree drawing upon a list of courses offered across the university. Therefore, it is not feasible to prepare a specific roadmap for this degree. The Director of the International Studies Program uses the Blackboard International Studies listserv to inform majors regarding the core courses that will be offered by the relevant departments. As soon as a new course schedule is available, the Director sends the students a complete list of every course in the university that can be applied to the International Studies major.

For more information, contact the Director of the International Studies Program in the Department of Political Science.